A MESSAGE FROM FPT EDUCATION GLOBAL!

Welcome to FPT Education Global. It is wonderful to have you join us at our Da Nang campus. I hope you will make yourself at home here and enjoy your Vietnamese experience.

FPT Education Global plays a major role in the international student affiliation and the "Go Global" approach of FPT University to increase student mobility, which is critical in the development of high-quality human resources needed for a fast-changing business world. As such, we are happy to welcome you to our new, modern facility in the most livable city of Vietnam among a community of international students from across the globe.

I hope that by the end of your stay, you will make long-lasting connections with local friends and those from other countries. I encourage you to make the best out of your time here by participating in a wide range of programs and activities that we offer in addition to your main program component, which will allow you to learn more about the local way of life and exchange cultures.

No matter how long you will be with us at FPT Education Global, please know that we are glad to host you. All our staff members and I are always happy to support you in any way we can.

All the best,
Hoang Van Cuong
Director of FPT Education Global

Travel Arrangement

If flights are not arranged by your university or a travel agent, you might want to book your air tickets far in advance in order to save your budget. Tips for travel arrangement can be found as follows:

- Check carefully your program agenda or contact with your Program Coordinator to make sure you depart/return from the right and same airport with other students (if you go with a group).
- Google Flights is a good tool to predict flight rates and suggest lower fares dates.
- Try to book your flight that arrives in the morning because navigating during daytime is much easier.
- Figure out inner-country transportation from the airport you arrive in advance. This will help if airport pickup service is not provided or provided but you get lost. See how to commute (page 30) for more information about transportation in Da Nang.

International Insurance

For your own safety, please make sure you have insurance covering the duration of your program in Vietnam in case of sickness/accidents. Check with your home university if you have to buy one or whether your home university will take care of this.

As per FPT Education Global's regulations, insurance is a required document so if you don't have insurance, you are not accepted to join the program.

Don't forget to make a copy of travel insurance certificate and bring it with you to Vietnam.

Cell Phone

You can consider following options for using cell phone while in Vietnam:

- Use roaming services with your current phone plan: Contact your current service provider at your home country to buy roaming services for your phone. This can be very convenient as you will not have to purchase a new phone and/or local SIM card but also the most expensive options with huge fee for roaming.
- Buy a local SIM card: Check if your phone has an accessible SIM card slot. Usually, an unlocked phone GSM is needed to use a local SIM card, with prices ranging from VND 150,000 - 200,000 (around USD 6.5 - 8.5). You can buy a SIM card at the airport when you arrive or go to our Student Service Department to get one with instructions from buddy team/coordinator. Please note that you might need local SIM in order to use some important local applications (DanaBus, Foody, etc.).
- Use free messaging apps that work through Wi-Fi: This option has limited use as it depends on your access to Wi-Fi. For your information, Wi-Fi is provided in the dormitory and campus. Free Wi-Fi in Da Nang city center is provided by the government but usually it is hard to access the internet through this Wi-Fi system because of the huge number of users. Wi-Fi is also available in almost all restaurants/coffee shop.

Pre-departure guide

Financial Affairs

It is advised that you use a combination of cash, credit/debit and ATM cards during your time in Vietnam.

Cash

- We recommend that you prepare some cash in VND in advance and suggest around USD 100-150 (average living cost per month, not including housing fees in Da Nang city) to start off.
- Buy VND at banks or currency exchange location in your home country before you depart. This will allow you to have local currency in case of emergency.
- Try to avoid Cash Exchange Counters at airports if you can as their exchange rates are higher than most other locations.

Cards

- If you plan to withdraw cash in Vietnam, notify your bank about the destination and duration of your stay.
- Check if there are any cash withdrawal limits and fees.
- Make sure you understand the foreign currency conversion fees.
- Don't rely entirely on ATM services. If your card is stolen, you will not have any means withdrawing money.

Traveler's Checks

- Most major banks will provide traveler's checks. Be sure to order them several weeks in advance.
- When signing traveler's checks, make sure the signature matches the name on your passport.
- Only cash traveler's checks at banks. Do not cash them at hotels or stores.
- Traveler's checks are not meant for making purchases. They must be cashed first at a bank.

đ Familiarize yourself with Vietnam Dong

Vietnam official currency is called Vietnam Dong (VND, in short). Vietnam Dong comes in these following denominations:

500,000
~USD 25

200,000
~USD 10

100,000
~USD 5

50,000
~USD 2.5

20,000
~USD 1

10,000
~50 cents

5,000
~25 cents

2,000
~10 cents

1,000
~5 cents

500
~2.5 cents

Note:

- You will rarely see 500 notes, sometimes the supermarket will give you candies instead of VND 500.
- It might take a bit of time for you to get used to all the zeros of VND.

Common mistakes you should be really careful are:

- 100,000 and 10,000 because of similar numbers.
- 500,000 and 20,000 because of similar color.
- 200,000 and 10,000 because of similar color.
- VND notes from VND 10,000 and above are made of polymer and can often stick together. Therefore, make sure you flick and count the notes before you pay.

Clothing & Personal Items

On average, the temperatures in Da Nang city are always high, hence bring your clothes suitable for this weather. Essential items are hats, sunscreen, summer shoes and water bottles.

Recommended clothing items:

Your university uniform, traditional costumes for closing ceremony or cultural events at FPT Education Global
Formal clothes suitable for the workplace if you come for the internship (Specific requirements will be provided in your Internship Agreement)

Clothes for warm weather

Some clothes for cool temperature, in case it gets cooler at night

Thin long sleeve shirts or jackets as ultraviolet (UV) ray may be strong

It is also wise to bring enough clothes for a few days up to a week in case you are not able to wash and dry your clothes in time

Swimsuits as Da Nang is a beach city

Pre-departure guide

Check the list of appliances that are available in your dormitory room (page 21) and figure out what else you need to pack.

Consider this:

- Put luggage tags on both your checked and hand luggage.
- Pack enough clothes in your hand luggage to last 03 days in case your checked suitcase is delayed. Don't forget to check your airline's baggage and weight requirement.

Note:

- Electric appliances in Vietnam run on 220 volts current. Check if you need a travel adapter.
- You should bring your own laptop, especially if you come for the internship or training courses as you might need to do a presentation.

Health

To fulfill the program, you should make sure you take care of your health carefully. Here are some reminders for you to do if applicable:

- Visit your doctor & dentist for a check-up before you depart.
- Get vaccinated: It is recommended that you get vaccination for Malaria, TB, Hepatitis A, B, rabies, meningitis, etc. before you depart to Vietnam. Contact your doctor for more recommendations.
- If you have any medical conditions that need medications, make sure you check with your doctor and get advice. Don't forget to bring necessary quantities of medications and be sure to carry a written prescription from your doctor.

Prepare Yourself for Cultural Transition

What to expect

As you start living in a country different from your home, adjusting to the new culture and living environment is a normal process. You may go through stages of cultural adjustment as described below. However, also note that not all people go through each and every stage and in that exact order.

- Honeymoon stage: You have just arrived in Vietnam. Everything is so exciting--Da Nang is awesome, the beaches are so beautiful and the people are so friendly. You can't wait to explore the city, make some travel plans and have a great time here!
- Culture shock stage: You realize that living in a different country is not as fun and easy as you thought... It's so hard to get around by bus, by bike and on foot; local people don't understand you when you try to explain something, you don't know enough Vietnamese and local people don't speak much English; and you miss your home foods... This is when you may feel homesick, lonely, or overwhelmed.
- Adjustment stage: As time goes by, you begin to figure out ways to manage your life in Vietnam. Now you can use Grab to get around the city so efficiently and cost-effectively. Google Translate becomes your great assistant when you want to buy something at a local shop. And hey, you learn about a shop that sells ingredients you can use to make your home foods!
- Adaptation stage: Now you find that living in a totally different culture is actually not that difficult. You can both enjoy exploring the local community while also maintaining connection with your home culture!

Pre-departure guide

Prepare Yourself for Cultural Transition

Tips for successful cultural adaptation

- Before your arrival:
 - Familiarize yourself with some basic understanding of the Vietnamese culture via the internet, TV or newspaper.
 - Ask students you know who have been to Vietnam or have participated in the same program as yours for tips and advice.
- While you are here:
 - Exchange conversations with local Vietnamese - this is a great way to not only understand the local community better but also introduce your home culture.
 - Find people with whom you feel comfortable sharing your feelings and experience with.
 - Stay in contact with your friends and family at home
 - Balance work and fun in your everyday life
 - Seek support if you need to. There will be difficulties moving to a new country and it is normal. The Student Experience Manager, your Program Coordinator, FPT Education Global staff and the buddy team are available for assistance.

Preparing Your Home Support System

Bear in mind that going abroad is a great opportunity to experience the world not only for you but also your family and friends, they might want to get involved in your international experience. Plus, they might be worried and want to hear updates about you when you are away. Therefore, it is advisable to discuss with your family and friends to set expectations for both sides during the time you go abroad.

Here are some points you can consider during your discussions:

- What are your worries about me going abroad? What can we do to address your concerns?
- How often should we communicate? Should we set a schedule?
- Don't forget this is the time for you to immerse in a new culture. You also have program schedule with many activities and/or tasks to follow. Therefore, you should consider limiting contact back home.
- Am I expected to share my experience abroad? If so, how?
- You can consider using social media platform like Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, Viber, Line, etc. Like communication, try to limit social media usage to maximize your new cultural experience.
- What can you do if you cannot contact me as scheduled?
- Don't forget to provide your family with the contact of your home university's coordinator and important contacts of FPT Education Global before you depart, so they know whom to contact if they cannot reach you.
- How can you respond/support me in case of emergency cases (robbery, accident, sickness, etc.)?

Welcome to
DA NANG

Personal Language Plan

The official language of Vietnam is Vietnamese. There is an increasing number of young people with fluent English capacity, but often you can find it hard to communicate with local people in Da Nang because they cannot speak English. Therefore prepare yourself with some vocabularies and be smart at using technology.

★ Useful Vietnamese Phrases

You might have personal goals for yourself about language, whether it is memorizing and using simple phrases for daily communication or attaining higher level of local language fluency, especially if you stay in Vietnam for months.

For the former goals, please check some useful Vietnamese phrases as below. You can practice it before you come to Vietnam as it is always impressive if you can speak some Vietnamese to the localst the first time you meet each other.

Pre-departure guide

ENGLISH	VIETNAMESE
Hello	Xin chào
My name is ...	Tôi tên là ...
What is your name?	Bạn tên gì?
I'm fine	Tôi khỏe
Thank you	Cảm ơn
Sorry	Xin lỗi
Excuse me, can you show me how to get to ...?	Xin lỗi, làm sao để đi đến ...?
How much?	Giá bao nhiêu?
Too expensive, discount please	Đắt quá, bớt đi
I will take this one	Tôi lấy cái này
Delicious	Ngon
Help me	Giúp tôi
Do you want to hang out with me?	Bạn có muốn đi chơi cùng tôi không?

Ajax Apply Technology

Here are some applications that you can use for translating purposes: Google Translate, Papago, Waygo, etc.

Install and practice in advance. Then you can have experience using the application in time of need.

Pre-departure guide

WHEN YOU ARRIVE Immigration Notes

Upon arrival, check to make sure that the seal of entry stamped by Custom officers has the same dates as stated on your visa.

If there is any difference, ask the Custom officers for clarification.

Airport Pickup

- If airport pickup is included in the program, please pay attention to our welcome board. Our shuttle bus will take you to your dormitory for check-in.
- If you cannot meet the buddies at the airport or you get lost, try to contact the buddies first, then your Program Coordinator.
- Contact Deputy Director and Director of FPT Education Global if you cannot reach these above-mentioned people.
- In the worst case you cannot contact anyone (we have never encountered this incident before), please don't panic. Find a coffee shop/restaurant around the arrival hall of the airport to take a rest and try to contact them again, then indicate the name of the coffee shop/ restaurant for the buddies/staff to come to meet you.
- If airport pickup is not included in the program, you can either use Grab or Taxi to get to the dormitory. Remember to show the driver the address of the dormitory.

In general, Da Nang is a safe city. However, precaution is always important. You should:

- Pay attention to your belongings in crowded places like markets, public buses.
- Always check carefully before you cross the street.
- Don't go alone late at night.
- If you go alone to any places, make sure at least one of your friends know where you are going.
- Be careful with strangers. Vietnamese people are generally very friendly; however, it is not recommended to take rides with strangers when they offer you.

Transportation

Commute around the city

Public Transportation:

Bus

- It is one of the cheapest ways to travel around the city. The cost of each turn is just VND 5,000 and is free with student bus pass.
- If you stay for more than 01 month, monthly bus pass is recommended to save your budget. Check if local bus pass is included in your program; otherwise please come to our Student Service Department to register monthly bus pass.
- The bus is clean, pretty on time and technology-friendly.
- Bus driver cannot speak English. Make sure you know where to get off or give the address to the driver then they will inform you where you can get off. To look up the route, you can use the application "DanaBus" (page 40).

Explore Da Nang

Taxi

- It is easy to catch taxi at any time.
- You'd better have destination written down since there are few drivers who can speak English.
- It is recommend that you have cash with you as many taxis do not accept credit/debit cards.
- Make sure the drivers turn on the meter when you get in the car. Otherwise, refuse to use their service as they can have the chance to cheat.
- Starting price is around VND 12,000 - 15,000/km for the first 10 kilometers.
- Recommended taxi brands:
 - Mai Linh Taxi (+84. 236 356 5656), cards accepted
 - Vinasun (+84. 236 368 6868), cards accepted
 - Tien Sa Taxi (+84. 236 379 7979)

Grab

- Grab is the most common transportation platform in Da Nang.
- You must install Grab App first and know the address of your destination.
- It is recommended that you pay by credit card so that there is no risk of scamming. If the driver asks for more than the fee you have to pay, say No and report to Grab immediately.
- Grab Bike is much cheaper than Grab Car.

Personal Transportation:

Motorbike

- It is the most popular means of transportation of Vietnamese people
- FPT Education Global don't recommend international students to drive motorbike in Vietnam and you have to bear your own risk
- The rate of motorbike rental is around: VND 80,000 - 200,000/day or VND 1,500,000 - 3,000,000/month depending on the type of the motorbike

Bicycle

- You can use bicycle to get to places near the dormitory or go to the beach
- Bicycle rental service is available at the dormitory
- Please come down to Student Service Department to know the regulations and register for using one

Reaching out to other cities/ provinces in Vietnam

If you want to travel to other cities/provinces in Vietnam you can either choose intercity bus/coach, train or airplane depending on your budget. Here are some tips:

- Check if the city(ies) you want to visit has train station and airport. All cities and provinces of Vietnam have coach stations.
- Check the expense yourself by the booking system and ask for advice from buddies/student advisor to consider appropriate means of transportation.

Addresses of coach, railway station and airport at Da Nang:

- Da Nang Central Coach Station: 201 Ton Duc Thang Street, Hoa Minh Ward, Lien Chieu District
- Da Nang Train Station: 791 Hai Phong Street, Tam Thuan Ward, Thanh Khe District
- Da Nang International Airport: Hoa Thuan Tay Ward, Hai Chau District (Note: Make sure you inform the driver to take you to domestic terminal)
